

“Pssst... pass it along.”

Cavities are nearly 100% preventable.

Childhood dental disease ranks as the most common chronic condition among children – even though cavities are nearly 100% preventable! In fact, small changes in dental habits can have big effects on a child's dental health.

At Delta Dental, we're working to eliminate childhood dental disease by providing funding and support to numerous community programs that improve dental health education and promote good dental health.

Spread the word.

Please pass this card along to a new mother or someone you know who's expecting a child – and encourage them to learn more about helping kids prevent cavities.
